About me

Greetings everyone , my name is Saksham and I am a first year CSE(AI) student at KIET Group of institutions Ghaziabad. I consider myself to be a simple person with ambitious goals . My main interests are cricket , computers , gaming and little bit of music . The person whom I idolise the most is my dad. He is also an engineer and I have him to thank for my natural curiosity towards technology. My cricketing idol has to be Shane Warne because of how he approached the game . In the field of technology I really like Alan Turing's work. I believe in the motto live and let live .
